Keithy Boy

*We stood beside your bed Keithy until the stars twinkled in the night sky
Your sun was going down and our eyes began to cry.*

*We could see others visiting you from the Realm up above
And wished to see that face that lit your eyes up with love.*

*We wanted you to stay, but God knew it was your time
Your smiles were our sunshine - pure, white and sublime.*

*Each day your carers came to give a bit of themselves
Each a feather, pure, white, shimmering with love*

Imprinted to become your WINGS when you are called home to the realm above.

*As your breath slowed to a whisper, we weren't quite prepared
We knelt beside your bed to say a little prayer.*

*Your wings began to expand, your feathers shimmering in the night.
Your last sigh told us that you were ready to take flight.*

*Shelly & I were by your side, your eyes closed, a final breath.
Your wings fluttered then flew, you are whole -
For you there is no more death*

*Fly high our Keithy
Dad, xxxxx*
